

NEWSLETTER N°6 | FEBRUARY 2010

2nd Coordination Meeting, Beijing

SportAccord concluded 2009 with the 2nd Coordination meeting in Beijing. The Beijing Organising Committee presented a progress report, and together with the Combat Games Committee worked on the technical file review and on the 2010 event preparation planning. Work is in progress and on schedule for ceremonies, publications, TV packages, transport, accreditation and other event services.

2010 Combat Games sport disciplines and categories confirmed

Fact and figures:

- 1084 athletes, the higher ranked men and women from 5 continents
- 26 disciplines
- 134 categories
- Lightest, the light Fly men in boxing (46 to 49kg)
- Heaviest, the Sumo Heavy weights (+115kg)

Full list of the Combat Games Sports Information is available here.

Event's Hotel allocation

The three following event hotels were confirmed:

WADA Code Signatory

SportAccord became WADA code-signatory as event organisers.

SportAccord and the Beijing Organising Committee will work together during the event to carry out anti-doping controls according to the World Anti-doping code and standards. The preliminary anti-doping test distribution plan was completed and will be further defined in collaboration with each IF within the next couple of months.

Event Website

The event's website, unveiled by Beijing in November, is now available in its English version on www.beijing2010.org. While the SportAccord combat games section on SportAccord.com will focus on general information and features on the Combat Games, the Beijing2010.org will provide more practical and detailed information on the 2010 event in Beijing.

Xiyuan Hotel
Referees Hotel

Friendship Hotel
Athletes Hotel

Intercontinental Beichen
Headquarter Hotel

The Friendship hotel will host all the athletes from the 13 sports, enhancing the Martial Arts and Combat sports sense of community of the event. All referees will be accommodated in the Xiyuan Hotel. Both hotels are located within short distance of the sport infrastructures. The Intercontinental Beichen Hotel will become for the length of the event the main operations centre.
